ABOUT POLICEMEN.

Experience of an Ex-Gambler
With the Cops Squeezing Process.

A Story of Official Persecution—Insultual Gamblers Offer Protection—An Officer's Astonishing Audacity—Queer Burglars' Tools.

CINCINNATI, July 29.—Ten years ago a certain gambling establishment in this city, where the song of the goose was the keynote to the loss of many a hard earned dollar, kept the police busy making raids upon it. It seemed as if the knowledge of the police in regard to gambling in Cincinnati was confined to this house, but they knew in a score of other houses faro, keno, roulette, hazard and other games were in full operation. The officer's vigilance did not extend to them, but it seemed their purpose, as the public knew nothing of their going over the favored houses, to keep them in hot water. It was persecuted without any reason or apology to modify it, and while the police went on receiving tribute from this as well as other games, they also kept up the raids about twice month upon this obnoxious establishment. Perhaps the city has a more reasonable force of blue coats now, but it is doubtful, for I can count a dozen games of faro, half as many of keno which are running nightly, and some of them during the day. Officers on duty in full uniform have been seen to go into two or three especially protected houses and stay there for half an hour or more. At the time the games were going on, but no arrests were made, and it was only at long intervals that the public are informed that a descent is made on certain houses, only to result in finding the gambler away and his paraphernalia hidden. As it was ten years ago, so it is now, gamblers and prostitution protected by the police. But the persecuted gambler of times past was met the other day. He has for some time been lost sight of among the local sports and his dress accounted for the absence. He is now working honestly at his trade of stone cutting, making a fair living at daily wages and seemingly contented, except when questioned about the past. Then the recollection of how he was hounded by the police stirs his wrath and he readily tells of how he was constantly blackmailed.

"When we were running our keno game, and it was the squarest in town," he said the other day, "I was paid weekly to a clerk in the Police Court to be divided among three persons. One-half the sum went to a now prominent attorney and the other half was divided equally between the clerk and a person who held authority over the police force. But notwithstanding this the raids were constantly made and we thought ourselves lucky if we did not have to appear twice a month in court to answer the charge of exhibiting gaming devices. Certain gamblers came to us and offered us protection for one-fourth the receipts of the house. This was refused, and it was not long after when the following occurred to me. One night I went to a faro game and while there saw a policeman in uniform playing. A friend came to me and said our house was to be pulled that night. I went out, across the street up to Fifth and then to my own house. I had not been there fifteen minutes before the officer I saw at the other house came in with a warrant for my arrest. I thought that the climax of a policeman's audacity, and refused to submit to arrest. After a tongue lashing, in which I reminded the officer that if he insisted on taking me to the station house there would be an interesting case concerning himself for the Chief of Police to consider. I went to the station house and the officer who was locked up when the officer who was getting a share of our monthly tribute came and advised me to leave town; if I consented to do so he would have me released. You may rest assured that I was not delicate in telling the fellow what I thought of him. The officer who made the arrest is on the force to-day, the one to whom our money is paid has a position that pays him well, and I am keeping myself and family by hard work at my trade.

"The Police Court is a farce and a system of tyranny. One time a young fellow from a New York town came to Cincinnati on the lookout for work. He had some five hundred dollars with him. The police got on to it and arrested him for loitering. He was brought before the Judge and asked for a continuance long enough to enable him to get proof as to character from his home. The Judge granted it, and said, 'I'll fix your bail at $100.' Just then a well known pawnbroker, a favorite of the police, stepped up to the Judge and whispered something to him which led the Judge to say, 'Hold on, I learn you have burglars' tools in your possession; I'll make the bond five hundred dollars.' The burglars' tools were a small ring of ordinary keys and a shoe button. After which the case was dismissed, but the young fellow had difficulty in getting the money the officer had taken from him when arrested. Then, and if it is any better now I don't know it, justice operated a fleeing scheme worse than any brace game.

"We started a faro shop one time, and had been running but a week when a detective, who is now a gambling house pensioner, came and got twenty-five dollars from my partner. When it was told to me I protested against any further payments of that kind, saying, 'If you give money place it where it will do some good.' The next week the detective called for another installment. He did not get it, and the house was pulled a few nights afterwards. Another detective came to our old establishment, the keno layout, and said 'I want my whack out of this,' I replied, 'You will have to wait until there is something on which to make a "divide." We have just started, call again.' It was not long before we enjoyed a raid. I have not time to extend this interesting tale just now, but my memory is rich with the squeezes the old policemen and detectives used to make on the gamblers and pensioners of Cincinnati. I want no more of it. My life now, although it is hard work for daily bread, is much easier, and in content."

A TERRIBLE RIDE.

A Wagon-Load of Tourists Dashed Down a Mountain.

BAR HARBOR, Me., July 29.—This island was started by the most serious accident that ever befell a party of Mount Desert tourists. A party of ladies and gentlemen from Bar Harbor went out for a day's watching trip as guests of the yacht Neptune, and late in the afternoon they went ashore at the Northwest Harbor, to return by land. A large buckboard, the exclusive pleasure vehicle on the island, was secured for the return trip, and they started off in the gayest of spirits for the ride over the mountains. There were in the party Mr. J. P. Chase, of Boston, and three adult daughters; Mrs. Callie White, daughter of Francis White, of Baltimore; Miss K. C. Pierce, daughter of N. W. Pierce, of Boston; Miss Lewis, daughter of Mr. F. E. Lewis, of Boston, and the driver, Seward Dorr. They howled along merrily for some distance outside of Northwest Harbor. As the team was carefully descending a steep hill almost in front of the cottage of President Eliot, the king-bolt suddenly snapped, and the long ash spring-board which forms the body of the wagon shot forward upon the horses' legs. The animals dashed ahead in terror down the sharp declivity, and while going at a terrible speed turned sharply one side. The buckboard and passengers shot past the frantic horses into a rocky ditch by the side of the road. The shock was a terrible one. Of the party, Miss Mahel Case was killed outright, and all but one of the rest were very seriously hurt. Besides the severe bruises and lacerations which all received, Miss White suffered compound fractures of both arms and a crushed wrist, which will make amputation necessary. Mr. Case was badly cut about the head and body, and received serious injuries of both knees. Miss Pierce was similarly injured. Miss Carrie Case had a knee dislocated. Her remaining sister suffered a severe scalp wound. The driver was so badly hurt that he was unable to move, and Miss Lewis was the only one not seriously hurt. Miss Mahel Case died of dislocation of the neck almost immediately. Her body and the injured were taken to President Eliot's residence, and every attention was shown. Dr. Morris Langstrath, of the Philadelphia Medical Institute, is summing near by, and he rendered surgical aid. No one in any way blames the driver for the accident, and the buckboard was almost new, but from the construction of this primitive vehicle it seems to be rather unsafe for mountain travel. The whole weight of the load in descending Mount Desert hills, which are as steep as any in New England, is held by the slender king-bolt, with no protection from disaster in case of break. If it gives way the result is almost sure to be like that of to-day. The disaster has, of course, created a profound impression here, especially in the best society, where the victims are held in high esteem.

A CIRCUS ON FIRE.

Terrible Panic in the Audience—Many Injured.

NEWBOLD, Va., July 29.—The burning of Nathan & Co.'s circus in Portsmouth, near here, was one of the most thrilling scenes of destruction by fire ever witnessed in this vicinity.

Between four thousand and five thousand men, women and children attended the show. After the performance had commenced the wind began to blow quite heavily, causing considerable movement of the canvass. The crowd, however, remained quiet, although they watched attentively a large tent that had been made in the canvas by the wind, and which was momentarily growing larger, the canvass being very old.

A horse was brought on for the use of one of the bareback performers, and his rider mounted him and attempted to go on with his part of the performance, but the horse seemed to be aware of the impending danger and refused to stay in the ring. It was at this juncture that the wind struck the tent with great violence, tearing the canvass from the centre pole to the curtain and causing many of the poles to fall. The crowd then became panic stricken and began to rush for the entrance in a wild endeavor to escape.

Soon the cry of "Fire!" was heard above the screams of women and children and the shouts of men, and the panic stricken crowd became perfectly delirious with terror. The oil lamps in the ring had set the canvass on fire, and it was burning furiously, but the deluge of rain commenced falling and it extinguished the flames after the tent was about half destroyed. Women and children were knocked down and run over, fathers and mothers were separated from their children and ran about in every direction, calling on all they met to aid them in finding their lost ones. A few men only proved equal to the occasion, and stood bravely fighting the flames and assisting the women and children out from among the debris either by tearing or cutting the canvass.

To add to the difficulties of escaping all who emerged on the side of the tent were suddenly precipitated into a ditch about five feet deep, fully grown up with briars. Here the ladies, children and men were piled in inextricable confusion, and the females were almost denuded of clothing. To add to the terror all the fire bells commenced to ring and the steam whistles to signal alarms, throwing the city into great excitement and turning out the whole population. A great many people were badly hurt and had limbs broken, but no one was killed outright.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

How and Where the President is Going.

The Journey to Louisville—Details of the Yellowstone Expedition—Who Will Go Along—Object of the Journey.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Secretary Folger accompanied the President to Louisville on Sunday. Also on the train were Postmaster General Gresham, Secretary Lincoln and General Sheridan. The party attend the opening of the exposition, remaining in Louisville about two or three days. The whole party will then go to Chicago, and from there Secretary Folger will go to Minnesota and Postmaster General Gresham will go to Indiana. The Yellowstone party will start from Chicago next Friday. It will consist of the President, Secretary Lincoln, Senator Vest, Surrogate Rollins and Governor J. Schuyler Crosby, of Montana. The travelers will first go to Green River, in Wyoming Territory, and will leave there on the Tuesday following the day of starting. Stations have been established by General Howard between Green River and Livingston station, on the Union Pacific Railroad, where the party will again take the cars. There will be 200 horses and mules taken along and an escort of cavalry.

The journey from Chicago will be made in a special train tendered by the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Company and by the Union Pacific Railroad. The members of the party will return on a special train on the Northern Pacific road and on the Chicago & Northwestern road. There will be no expense for these trains. Where the party will have to make the journey between the Union Pacific and the Northern Pacific railroads a specially strong force of soldiers will be detailed as an escort. This distance—some three hundred miles—will have to be traveled either in wagons, on horseback or a foot, and about thirty intermediate stations have been established by General Howard. Special telegraph lines have been constructed over a part of the route and courier lines will also be established. The President will never be more than three or four days' journey from a telegraph line.

There has been a good deal of interesting gossip about the possible significance of the proposed trip. The fact that ex-Senator Roscoe Conkling, ex-Senator Boutwell, of Massachusetts, Judge Alfred Cox and others will be in the Yellowstone region at about the same time as the Presidential party, has caused a good deal of comment. Then, too, Mr. Rufus Hatch is organizing a party of politicians and others, who are to leave the city on August 10, and Mr. Henry Villard will make the journey with a number of friends about the same time. The different parties will all meet in the Yellowstone Park, and it has been intimated that the meeting may be important and significant in its political bearings. President Arthur says the trip is purely for recreation.

DEADLY ICE CREAM.

The Wholesale Poisoning Case at Joliet, Ill.

JOLIET, Ill., July 29.—The condition of the sufferers from the ice-cream poisoning is much better, with the exception of a few cases, and they are not considered dangerous, though it will doubtless be some time before they will fully recover from the effects of it. Mrs. S. S. White and daughter Lillie, Mrs. J. H. Winterbotham, Chester and Miss Mittle Page, O. Fox, Mrs. E. L. Bartlett, Mrs. Capt. Hill, and Miss Jennie Patterson, are much improved, while Miss Ella Stevens and a few others are not as well, though the relapse is more from extreme exhaustion than from the effects of the poison. Some of those who attended the social and ate quite heartily of the cream have not been affected in the least by it, while others who ate very sparingly were most effected. Some felt the effects of their repast in a few minutes afterward, and hurried home for relief, while others were spared the terrible nausea for several hours, only, however, to be attacked with double violence. No conclusion has yet been arrived at as to the cause of all the trouble, nor do any two physicians hold the same opinion as to what was the matter with the cream. One of them who has had a large number of patients, and who says he has watched all the symptoms very carefully, says he is positive that the poisoning was from arsenic, while another, one of larger experience, is quite as positive that the poison comes from copper; but what puzzles all is how it could possibly have got into the cream. The compound for the cream was prepared and boiled in a common tin wash-bowl, with a copper bottom tinned over, and a smaller portion in a large tin dish-pan. Both vessels were thoroughly cleaned and dried before using. After having been boiled it was set off and allowed to cool, and was then poured into the cans for freezing. These were made of heavy tin, and have been in constant use since last spring. They were bright and clean, and have not been used for any other purpose. The cream, after freezing, was taken to the grounds in these cans, and was dashed out to the guests directly from them. The person who ate the first dish was the man who froze it, and he was taken violently ill. Several children ate freely of it at the same time. Some of them were not affected in the least, while others were thrown into spasms from the effects of the terrible sickness that came over them a few hours later.

STILL OUT.

No Material Change in the Telegraphic Situation.

CINCINNATI, July 29.—The telegraphic strike remains about in the same condition. The Western Union's claims of several accessions in other places from the ranks of the strikers is denied, and it is claimed that the company's business is as badly crippled in this office at least as it has been at any time since the strike went into effect. The notices that the company receive messages subject to delays and mailing still continue to be suspended in the office here, although it is reported that they have been removed in Cleveland and other places.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Company, through its agent here, submitted to its operators individually a proposition to increase their salaries if they would return to work at once in the following ratio: To those receiving $40 and $50 each per month, an increase of $25 per month; those receiving $60 and above, an increase of $15 per month. No guarantee, however, was offered that these prices would continue. There was nothing written but a list of the proposed increases, the other part of the negotiations being carried on verbally.

New York, July 29.—A large amount of business is neglected. The money order system is still closed. Many branch offices are closed. In spite of every effort many press specials arrive after the papers have gone to press. The Signal Service reports are delayed, and sometimes lost. It is easy to find merchants who have received messages a day old.

The company has taken down in this city its notices, "Subject to Delay," and announced that business would be received on the usual terms.

Both sides say they have settled down for a siege. The Brotherhood say they can live longer without work than the company can stand its daily losses.

The imported Canadian operators are all working with the Continental Code. To handle messages it is necessary, to work these men in pairs, one at each end of the wire. The difference between the Continental system of signals and the Morse is so great that a man who knows only one can not understand the other.

ANOTHER ARMY SCANDAL.

A Post Chaplain Who May Be Dropped From the Roll as a Deserter.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The War Department has another interesting scandal on hand, the victim who has fallen from grace this time being Post Chaplain Toussaint Mesplie. This officer is a native of France, and was commissioned from Idaho, in August, 1872.

About a year ago Chaplain Mesplie was granted sick leave of absence. He went West and overstayed his time. On being notified of that fact, last January, he begged a further extension, on account of impaired health. Since then, however, he has not been heard from until several weeks ago, when word reached the War Department that he had duplicated his pay accounts, but to what amount is not made public.

Inquiry into the matter further developed the fact that the Chaplain was last heard of in London, England. It is not believed that he will return. In the meantime it has been practically decided at the War Department that if he does not report within a reasonable period he will be dropped from the army roll as a deserter. Mesplie is well known among the brokers here, having visited them frequently while in this city to negotiate his pay certificates.

IS CHOLERA HERE?

Four Mysterious Cases That Alarm Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 29.—Four sudden and violent cases of sickness occurred in the same neighborhood in this city and caused some uneasiness. A physician who attended two of the patients says, that while he will not declare the case cholera, the symptoms were identical with the genuine Asiatic form of the disease. In two instances the victims had just eaten a hearty meal of beefsteak, and, as another member of the family who had not partaken of the steak escaped illness, there is an inclination to attribute the illness to poisoning. This theory is shaken by the fact that the two other persons who were taken sick with precisely the same symptoms had not been eating meat that was purchased at the same shop. The first to become ill, William Garrison, and Henry Stebbins, are still in a critical condition and grave fears are entertained as to their recovery. Mrs. James Langtry and her daughter did not have so violent attacks, and will recover. The incident causes considerable alarm in view of the rapid development of cholera in places that have been remote from immediate contagion with infected sections. The Board of Health will make a thorough investigation.

BLAIR'S BURIAL.

Funeral of the Late Statesman at Rock Creek.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The funeral of the late Montgomery Blair took place at Rock Creek, near this city, the services being held in the village church. The regular pastor officiated, and a large number of distinguished persons, both from this city and other parts of the country, were present, including quite a delegation from Baltimore and Philadelphia. Rock Creek cemetery was selected for the burial place for the reason that in the cemetery there rest the remains of the deceased's father, mother and daughter. The Postoffice Department buildings here will, by order of Postmaster General Gresham, remain draped in mourning until August 28.

THE DEADLY POOL.

Further Details of the Recovery of Webb's Body.

Its Appearance—Sending It to His Wife—What the Authorities Say—Another Fatal Accident—Some Curious Facts.

NIAGARA FALLS, July 29.—The interest in the melancholy fate of Captain Webb continues unabated. The recovery of the body so soon, or at all, is matter of surprise, for very few of the whirlpool's victims are ever found after being once swallowed up. The discovery of Webb's remains, however, puts an end to a great deal of silly talk as to his fate. Many people said and believed the whole affair was a sham, that a dummy was thrown in, and that in due time the adventurous swimmer would turn up safe and sound. It is amazing how this preposterous idea took hold of the popular imagination in the face of the testimony of the two or three hundred people who saw the event and fully established its genuineness. Mrs. Webb is not in England, as has been asserted, but in Boston, and the remains have been shipped to that city, accompanied by Mr. Kyle. After passing through the undertakers' hands but few traces of the terrible buffeting and pummeling the body had gone through were visible. The lips were firmly drawn, but the general expression was peaceful and natural, the face being nearly free from bruises. The authorities here are indignant at the criticisms to which they have been subjected for allowing Webb to go on in his fool-hardy enterprise. They claim that they had no idea that any man with a grain of good sound judgment would have undertaken such a thing, and that if they were to devote themselves to interfering with all the charlatans and humbugs who come here with flaming announcements of the great feats they are going to perform, there would be no time for anything else. It is not claimed, or even for a moment hinted, that Webb was of this class, because he has only too well proven the contrary. But the impression prevailed among all those to whom he announced his plan that he or his manager would take good care that the programme was not carried out. Since the death of Webb a boy about fourteen years of age has met his death in the same fatal rapids. He accidentally fell in, it is supposed, and was swept away. Nobody witnessed the accident, but as he was last seen in the vicinity, and as all search has failed to discover his whereabouts, the usual theory in the case of such disappearances here is applied. This makes the fourth victim of the whirlpool within two weeks. It has been remarked by all residents here that accidents on the river, as well as suicides by jumping into it, come in epidemic form, many of them following each other in rapid succession. The season of 1883 has gone far to confirm this, the number and character of the disasters that have followed each other with startling rapidity being unusually shocking. It is another curious fact that every grim accident has a remarkable effect upon the number of visitors. For instance, since Webb's death more people have been to the Falls, with the exception of the week of the Senguerfest, than during any similar length of time for several years.

WAY'S PECULIAR WAY.

Method Taken by Him to Secure Some Alleged Heirlooms.

BOSTON, July 29.—The Commonwealth of Massachusetts recently took by eminent domain for public uses the fine large brown stone front dwelling on Park street, at the corner of Mount Vernon street, known as the Way estate. Mr. Edward F. Hamlin, executive clerk in the Governor's department saw parties removing various articles from the Way house, passing them out through the basement windows. He went over, and on proceeding to the basement found a laborer there engaged in removing various fixtures. Upon asking the man what he was doing, Mr. Charles G. Way, who was within hearing, replied in substance that it was none of Mr. Hamlin's business. This caused further inquiry. Mr. Way was asked how he got in. He replied that he came through the door. Mr. Hamlin told him that was impossible, as the locks had been changed. Mr. Way thereupon acknowledged that he had gone up to the roof through the stairways in the east end of the building and had descended into the west tenement by way of the skylight. Examination showed that he had torn out the elegant mantle marbles in the parlor and in the room above it on the second floor; had removed several elegant chandeliers, and had taken out the great set range from its position in the basement, disfiguring the house greatly, and leaving everything in such condition that it will cost several hundred dollars at least to put things back in as good shape as before. Mr. Way gave no excuse for his acts, declaring that the mantels, the range, the chandeliers and other articles taken were heirlooms, to which the Commonwealth had no claim. It is probable that legal proceedings will be instituted against him by the State.

The Nations' Pets.

CHICAGO, July 29.—Secretary Teller said to a reporter while here that outside of Crook's captured Apaches there was no dissatisfaction among the Indians about their reservation and locations. The problem of how to deal with the red man, was fast obtaining a solution, and it was found in education and the following of agricultural pursuits. The day had gone by, he said, when the proposition to turn the Indian over to the guidance of the army could be seriously entertained.

The Massachusetts Legislature has just adjourned after sitting 206 days, the longest session on record.

The body of Capt. Webb, the swimmer, was recovered on Saturday, near Lewistown, N. Y., and was fully identified.

At the primary election in the Lexington district, last Saturday, Capt. Morton obtained the nomination for Circuit Judge by a handsome majority. His competitors were Judge Breck, of Richmond, and Mr. Cunningham, of Paris.

HON. MONTGOMERY BLAIR died at Washington, Ky., Friday. He was born at Frankfort, Ky., May 10th, 1813, was educated at West Point, and subsequently studied law at St. Louis. He was Postmaster General under President Lincoln, and was the last member of his original Cabinet.

GEN. A. G. P. DODGE, of the Kentucky Union Railway, has made a very generous contribution toward the advancement of learning in Breathitt county, in this State. He has given $3,000 to be used in building an academy at Jackson, and $4,500 to be applied to aid deserving young men in obtaining education.

The Postmaster General having flanked the Louisiana Lottery by stopping the delivery of letters to the manager, containing money, the lottery folks have flanked the Postmaster General by advertising that letters containing money for tickets should be sent to one of the banks at New Orleans. The Government has arrived at the conclusion that there is no method by which the money packages intended for the Lottery Company can be distinguished from those connected with the legitimate business of the bank.

The Emmet Rifles responded promptly to the call of the State and performed their duties as soldiers well and satisfactorily. The company was asked for by Judge Cole when he found that it was absolutely necessary to the safety of the prisoner, and he has certified to the Governor that the presence of the military at the jail averted mob violence. In the opinion of all reflecting citizens it would be better to expend ten times the sum the troops cost the State than to have inflicted on Maysville the stain of having hanged a man while the court was sitting that was to try him. Nothing, therefore, that the New Republican can say against Judge Cole and the Emmet Rifles can in any way detract from the credit that is due them.

The Republican stalwart brethren, at Danville, are not dwelling together in unity as they ought. On Friday, Logan McKee, a king bee of the swarm, and D. A. Murphy, editor of the Danville Tribune, indulged in a rumpus of the knock-down and black-eye kind, that was entirely lacking of all high-toned characteristics. And Murphy, it is said, actually had the temerity to fling at the head of McKee a bound copy of the Congressional Globe, a dangerous weapon, if it can be proved that it contained any of John D. White's heavy speeches, which, it is well known, have killed White himself several times. These savage stalwarts fought like two tom-cats, and if accounts are true had a perfect h-l of a time. The Tribune next week ought to print an illustrated description of the affair.

CONDENSED NEWS.

THE special train carrying the President on his recent Eastern trip made a mile in forty-two seconds.

THE next national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held at Minneapolis, Minn.

ANOTHER salt vein has been struck at Genesee, N. Y., at a depth of 990 feet. The crystal is the purest yet discovered.

JAMES ANDERSON, aged fourteen, of Arcolia, Ind., blew in the muzzle of his father's gun to see if it was loaded.

HARRY BASCOMB, the comedian who lost both legs by frost-bite while drunk, has been sent to a poor-house near Boston.

OVER one thousand Chinamen have already been killed on the Northern Pacific Railroad, and the good work still goes on.

THE early arrest of John L. Hechmer, the defaulting treasurer of the Catholic Knights of America, is expected, as detectives are hot on his tracks in England.

BALDWIN, the diamond thief, has been arrested in Newport, R. I., for stealing $1,200 in diamonds and $500 in money, from Mr. and Mrs. Young, at the Ocean House.

FRANK DUNAND, on account of the loss of his situation and money embarrassments, committed suicide by taking opium at Birmingham, Conn.

FREDERICK MATTHEWS, a young New Yorker, of good health and an independent fortune committed suicide. He was engaged to be married to a beautiful young lady, and the day before the fatal act declared himself the happiest man alive.

It is reported that the Spanish Minister to Mexico has been recalled, and a serious rupture between the two countries is possible. While not anticipating war, serious commercial trouble is looked for. It is supposed to be caused by the Mexican repudiation of her Spanish debt.

A special train on the Matamoras & Monterey, running to the ball of Rosita Rancho, ran over a man and two women drunk and asleep on the track. The women have since died and the man is not expected to live. The train men were all arrested by the Mexican authorities and are now in jail there.

EVAN JONES had his wife brought to Bellevue Hospital, New York, to be treated, saying that he was too poor to provide for her further. Jones then left her and on going to the ferry jumped from the ferryboat Jay Gould and was drowned. His wife died without being informed of her husband's fate.

At a barbecue given at Sartatia by the citizens of Yazoo county, Miss., a Mr. Warrington objected to the way his son was cutting up a sheep. This enraged the son, and he attacked his father with the knife, cutting his body almost in two. The eldest Warrington died in a few minutes. The son escaped.

MRS. SEAGER, of Cleveland, in attempt- ing to crawl under a train of cars, caught her foot in some planks and had to lie helpless until the train started and ran over her. Her leg was completely severed near the hip and dropped through a hole in the dock into the river, where it was recovered. Mrs. Seager lived to reach her home.

The two Commercial Line steamers Scotia and Colorado were seized at Erie, Pa., on a foreign attachment by the Sheriff. They were permitted to proceed to Buffalo in charge of the Sheriff's officers for the purpose of unloading valuable cargoes. The vessels are to return to Erie and legal proceedings to remain in statu quo until the cargoes are removed. The suit is to recover $500,000.

The steamer France, of the National line, brought thirty valuable French horses to this country. They are the property of Mr. A. Regy, of Seward, Neb. Among the most noted of these animals, were four horses that won the grand prize for draft horses at Cazen this year, the winner of the "three-year-old" class and the winner of the gold medal for the "four-year-old and over" class of brood mares at the same place, and a white mare that has won five gold medals and a prize of 20,000.

The Divorce Question.

Philadelphia Ledger.
One-tenth of the marriages in New Hampshire appear to be "ill sorted matches." That, at least, is the proportion existing between the marriages and divorces of 1882. The former are fully reported; the divorces represent only those cases of disagreement where a decree was issued by the Supreme Court, and there must have been many unhappy marriages that ended in simple desertion without divorce. There are several States that would do well to look after the divorces and double marriages within their own borders before attacking the polygamy question in Utah.

Rumpus at High Bridge Camp Grounds.
High Bridge, Ky., July 25.—The conflict over Sunday observance at the camp ground has resulted in the resignation of the Conference Committee, consisting of Rev's J. B. Deering, E. L. Southgate and W. F. Taylor, who have managed the meetings held here for many years. The grounds are owned by an association, which has announced services for Saturday and Sunday, without the consent of the committee. Rev. Talmage, of Brooklyn, is to preach on Sunday, and excursion trains were arranged for. The above committee has notified the association its connection with the series of meetings will cease on Friday.

Death of Mrs. N. H. Hotchkiss.
The many friends of Major N. H. Hotchkiss in this place will regret to hear of the death of his estimable wife. The Stanton (Va.) Spectator has the following to say of the sad event:
Mrs. Harriet Russell Hotchkiss, wife of Maj. N. H. Hotchkiss, of this city, died at 11 o'clock last Saturday morning at the residence of her son-in-law, J. T. Elyson, Esq., in the city of Richmond, whither she went several months since for medical treatment for an acute disease, which baffled the skill of the best physicians. She was an excellent woman, a devoted wife and an affectionate mother, a kind neighbor and faithful friend, and was highly esteemed by all who knew her. Her loss is a heavy affliction to the hearts of her devoted husband and loving children, and is mourned by many friends. The bereaved husband will have the sympathy of many not only in this, but in other States where he is well known.

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

MONDAY EVENING, JULY 30, 1883.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Publishers and Proprietors,
To WHOM ADDRESS ALL COMMUNICATIONS.

Of course its best that you should go
To hear the parson preach,
And never fail to take to heart
The truths that he will teach.
But all the same, you know, my friend,
That every now and then,
The circus and the animals
Will please the best of men.

With tears in our eyes we are obliged to announce that the street cars have not arrived.

CAT-fish should never be fried but always baked or broiled. That is what an experienced fish cook says.

From and after to-day the Kentucky
Central train that usually leaves this city at 12:30 p. m. will go half an hour later.

The New Republic will please take notice that the BULLETIN wasn't a day late in printing the list of uncalled for letters.

Too much pistol firing at night is what the East Maysville people are complaining of at present. How is that, Messrs.
officers?

The public disappointment regarding the street cars is somewhat soothed by the fact that there will be two circuses
here next month.

This match race that was announced
for last Saturday, has been postponed until Wednesday, August 1st. The race will come off at 3 o'clock p. m.

The well diggers at the ice factory have struck a vein of water, but have concluded to bore still deeper, that there may be more obtained than will be needed.

Things are now working along very smoothly at the postoffice. The new officials have been broken into their duties and are going along in the traces like old stagers.

Mr. JAMES CULLEN, who understands
his business as a barber from a to izzard,
has opened at Gates' old stand, on Second street. The public is invited to visit his establishment.

ALL persons who are willing to take part in a concert for the benefit of the M.
E. Church, South, of Chester, are invited to meet at the church building on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Some of the streets and alleys are terribly filthy, and at times the stench is unbearable. There is no excuse to be made for this condition. They should be cleaned up immediately and at any cost.

Mr. THOMAS RUGGLES, who lives two miles above Concord, is entitled to the honors of having grown the best wheat in Lewis county this season. There were six acres of it and the yield was 40½ bushels to the acre.

REV. T. DEWITT TALMAGE preached at the High Bridge Camp Meeting, yesterday afternoon, to a congregation of from 5,000 to 7,000 people. The sermon began at one o'clock and consumed in the delivery about forty-five minutes.

The Adelphi Circle, of Maysville, are going to attend Camp Meeting in a body, and have a house of their own. If the persons don't know brands that need saving from the burning when they see them.

The meanest robbery on record was perpetrated Saturday night at Forman Bottom, when the St. Paul M. E. Church was robbed of the pulpit bible. A man who could be guilty of such a thing is mean enough to ask Robertson and Frank
when the street cars are coming.

SOME people are good "change artists," and do not seem to be aware of it. The other night a BULLETIN reporter was passing a house where some tough citizens
lived and heard this going on inside:
"You're a liar!"
"You're another!"
"Take that d—n you—and that and that and that!"
Tables were upset, crockery broken and something like a political convention prevailed.

"Help! murder! police!"
The reporter rushed to the door and was met on the threshold by a smiling man.
"What's the matter here?"
"Matter, why nothing's the matter—
what made you think so?"
"I thought so from the noise I heard
here a little while ago."

"You did, well that was only me
and the old women talking about some eggs. I said there were twelve and she told there were thirteen—say, is it true there will be two circuses here next month?"

A Pleasant Event.

One of the pleasant events of the season was the assembling of a large crowd of friends at the residence of Mr. William Wills, a few days ago in Chester, to celebrate the 25th anniversary of his marriage. The following is a list of articles presented on the occasion.

Mrs. McDonald, cream pitcher and sugar bowl.
Mr. and Mrs. Danlton, pair of pickle dishes.
Mr. and Mrs. Harding, set of glasses.
Miss Lizzie Forman, pair of pickle stands.
Miss Julie Clark, pickle dish.
Miss Belle Clark, pair of majolica pickle
dishes.
Miss Annie Clark, honey dish.
Mr. Otis Ambrose, silver spoon.
Mr. Elmer Ambrose, gold breast-pin.
Mr. John Nicholson, fruit stand, and one dozen salt-cellar.
Miss Nannie Lutz, celery salt.
Mr. Randolph Frost, preserve stand and pie pan.
Mrs. Yaxelle and daughter, pair of preserve
dishes.
Mr. Elshum, bar of tobacco.
Mrs. Elshum, a cake and a horse shoe.
Miss May Elshum, towel.
Mrs. Evans, a cake.
Mrs. Daugherty, honey stand.
Misses Annie and Florence Thomas, twenty cents in silver.
Miss Mollie Grimes, pair of hose.
Miss Minnie Blakemore, pair of socks.
Mrs. Lewis, towel.
Mr. W. Case, silver dollar.
Mrs. Simons, set of cups and saucers.

Dan Rice Coming.

Nathan & Co's. circus is to perform in this place, August 4th, morning and evening. Dan Rice, the prince of showmen, is with the company, and he is receiving an ovation wherever it goes.
The Albany (N. Y.) Times, of May 4th has the following in regard to the appearance of Nathan's circus in that city:
"The first circus of the season came to town to-day, and the hearts of both the young and the old boys were therefore stirred to their lowest depths. At the performance this afternoon, held on the vacant lots, corner of Hanson avenue
and Swan street, the tents were well filled. Col. Dan Rice, the veteran clown, was "the observed of all observers,"
but was compelled to divide his honors with Antoine Larche, the French clown, who kept the audience in a continual roar of laughter. His "elephant act" was excellent, while his performance in the comedy called "Entering the Den of Performing Lions,"
was a masterly piece of clown work,
greatly amusing the children present,
and those of mature years could not fail to appreciate the genuine fun of the performance. The children were also much entertained by the performance of the Rinehart troupe of performing dogs. The bareback riding of Madame Doeckill was simply wonderful. Her artistic manner of riding and driving four horses at once was received with tremendous applause. The acrobatic feats of the Ashtons were most wonderful.
The entire circus performance was under the supervision of R. H. Doeckill, which is proof of its excellence. The street parade this morning was witnessed by thousands of citizens. The menagerie connected with this circus, while not large, contains many choice animals.
The evening performance will begin at 8 o'clock, and the tents will doubtless be crowded."

Auction.

The sale of diamonds, watches, jewelry and silverware in Dr. Moore's store, on Second street, was largely attended on Saturday night. It is surprising how the firm can sell goods at such low prices.
Casters which cannot be bought under $5 anywhere in America were sold for $2, and other goods went at remarkably low prices. The sale will continue every morning, evening and night during the present week. Wm. Ambrose, j30d1t Auctioneer.

Short street is a famous rendezvous for the city dogs. They hold conventions and picnics there, by day and by night, at all hours, and on short notice.
The people who live on the street have endured the filth and fleas brought by these city pets with complete stoicism,
but the other night when an old sow that is suffering from a stoppage of the wind-pipe, made melody all the night through, they were up in arms
and are disposed to argue the point in a practical way. Go in, Short Streeters, and the BULLETIN will hold your bonnet.

We clip the following article from the Keokuk (Iowa) News, of July the 21st.
The Mrs. Dimond referred to was formerly a resident of this city and has many relatives living here at this time.
Owing to an inadvertence, the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John Dimond was referred to as having occurred on last Friday evening. The News afterward received a copy of invitation to the wedding, which took place on last evening, and was an event of importance to the worthy couple and their numerous friends. Mr. and Mrs. Dimond are still hale and vigorous having sailed upon a smooth matrimonial sea during their twenty years of married life. The list of invitations was a very large one and was as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Dimond and Judge McCarty and wife, Dr. Shaffer and wife,
Rev. R. Hassell and wife, H. Meyers and wife,
C. J. Hinkle and wife, James Sullivan and of Atlantic, Conn.

Card.

The statement made by the New Republican that an "unwarrantable outrage" was committed at my home by the squad of the Emmet Rifles is untrue.
Neither myself nor any of my family had any cause to object to their conduct, and I don't see why the New Republican should, and I respectfully ask the paper
for the name of its informant.

A LADY writes: "I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in my family for many years,
and could not keep house without it.
For the relief of the pains consequent upon female weakness and irregularities,
I consider it without an equal."

Not a particle of calomel or any other deleterious substance enters into the composition of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. On the contrary they prove of special service
to those who have used calomel and feel their mineral poisons as medicines, and their injurious effects. In such cases Ayer's Pills are invaluable.

INCORPORATION NOTICE.

Articles of Incorporation Adopted by the Maysville Coöperative Company of the City of Maysville, State of Kentucky.
1. Be it known that C. B. Duke, Thomas
Wells, Henry E. Pogue, W. B. Mathews, F. H.
White, John T. Fleming, J. J. Wood, H. C.
Bartley, John N. Thomas, T. C. Campbell, D.
Heehner, M. C. Russell, Geo. T. Hunter, E. W.
Mitchell, C. B. Clift and Geo. W. Lloyd have,
by this instrument, associated themselves together and become incorporated under, and in pursuance of the provisions of chapter 56 of the General Statutes of Kentucky, as the "Maysville Coöperative Company," a corporation that name shall sue and be sued, contract and be contracted with, and shall have perpetual succession and a common seal with power to alter same at pleasure.
2. The capital stock of said corporation shall be divided into shares of one hundred dollars ($100) each, and the subscription to said capital stock shall be paid in as follows:
Twenty-five (25) per cent, on the 1st day of August, 1883, and the remainder in such installments and at such times and places as the Board of Directors may determine.
3. The shares of stock shall be transferable by will or assignment of the owner upon the certificate for same shall be surrendered to the company and cancelled and a new certificate issued in lieu thereof to the persons holding same.
4. The corporation is organized for the purpose of manufacturing barrels and barrel
staves and all other articles made of wood or of which wood is the basis, and the business of said corporation shall be the manufacturing, buying and selling and dealing in such articles and in the materials for making same.
5. The said corporation shall have the power to acquire by purchase, or otherwise and to hold real and personal property, to such an amount as may be necessary and convenient for the proper prosecution of the business of said company, and shall have the same power to dispose of said property that private persons now have under the laws of Kentucky.
6. The private property of the stockholders of said company shall be forever exempt from any and all liability for the debts and liabilities of said company.
7. The principal place of business of said corporation shall be at Maysville, Ky.
8. The capital stock of said company shall be thirty thousand dollars ($30,000). The certificates of stock in said company shall be signed by the President and Secretary and attested by the seal of the corporation.
9. The said company shall have the right to employ agents and servants, to establish by-laws and make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the management of the affairs of the company, not inconsistent with
the provisions of these articles of incorporation with the laws of this State or of the United States.
10. The business of said company shall be managed by a board of seven directors, to be elected by the stockholders when the sum of eight thousand dollars ($8,000) is subscribed to the capital stock of said company and thereafter there shall be an annual election of directors on the first Monday in July of each year, said directors shall hold their offices until their successors are elected and qualified.
Each board of directors elected in pursuance of this provision shall elect a president, a treasurer, secretary and superintendent, and shall prescribe and define the powers and duties of said officers, and from such as they may prescribe take bond with surety for the faithful discharge and performance of their duties. No person shall be elected president who is not a member of the board of directors.
11. Stockholders shall be entitled to one vote for each and every share of stock held by them, in all elections and in all questions voted on in meetings of the stockholders and may cast said vote by written proxy.
12. The indebtedness of the company shall not exceed the sum of ten thousand ($10,000)
dollars at any one time.
13. By consent of a majority of the stockholders voting at a regular annual election
the provisions of these articles of incorporation may be amended or changed in any manner authorized by chapter 56 of the General Statutes of Kentucky.
14. The proceedings of stockholders' meetings and the meetings of the board of directors shall be regularly entered in a book of the company kept for that purpose. All the business transactions of the company shall also be kept in a regular set of books.
15. Any member at this corporation may withdraw therefrom at any time, by surrendering his stock to the company. Certificates of stock shall be assignable as above provided, but any stockholder withdrawing from the corporation by surrendering his stock, shall receive nothing from the company on his withdrawal.
16. This corporation shall commence on the 16th of July, 1883, and shall continue thereafter for the period of twenty-five years, and longer, if renewed as authorized by law.
In testimony whereof, the said incorporation have hereunto subscribed their names

LOST IN THE FORESTS.

A Little Girl Separated From Her Companion Wanderers in the Fastnesses of the Sierra Nevada.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Information reaches here that a little girl ten years of age, a daughter of a Mr. Wilson, a resident of Central Colony, was lost in the Sierra Nevada Mountains a few days ago. The particulars of the matter are that the families of B. Marks, Mr. Wilson, and others, went to the mountains to spend the summer, and located at Dinkey Creek, about sixty miles east of Fresno. Mr. Wilson's little daughter and two other young girls went out walking together, and wandered along the creek, and by some means or other Wilson's daughter fell into the creek. Her companions advised her to go back to camp and put on dry clothes. They had crossed the creek, and supposed the little girl knew which way to go, but she did not, and started in an opposite direction, so it seems. The other children on their return home found she had not arrived. Search was at once made, but without avail. All the campers turned out to look for her. They traced her southward nearly to the Blaker Creek grove of big trees, when she turned and wandered northward, but no further trace of her had been found. Information of the sorrowful event was sent to the sawmills and work was stopped, and all hands started out in search of the missing child. The event was of such a sad character that it has cast a gloom over the whole community. It is hardly probable that the child has survived the fright and exposure attendant upon such an affair, and the worst is to be feared.

A CLERGYMAN SUED.

A Brooklyn Pastor Accused of Sunday Evil Deeds.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Thomas J. Noblett has begun a suit against the Rev. Richard H. L. Tighe, pastor of the Grace Protestant Episcopal Chapel, in the Supreme Court of Kings County, to recover $25,000 for defamation and unlawful prosecution. He alleges in his complaint that the defendant visited his home when he was absent and instilled into the mind of his wife certain slanderous and malicious tales. Among other things it is charged that the reverend gentleman told the plaintiff's wife that plaintiff was unfaithful to her and was an habitual drunkard; that in consequence of these statements the plaintiff was locked up in the Kings County Inebriates' Home, and that thereafter, and in consequence of those stories, his wife sued for a divorce, and on his discharge from the Home had him arrested on a charge of assault and battery, for which he was sentenced to fifty days in the Penitentiary.

WARM SPRINGS SKELETON.

WARM SPRINGS, N. C., July 29.—In tearing down an old house in the country, five miles from this place, the skeleton of a man was found, the bones and even the cartilages in a remarkable state of preservation. Beside the skeleton were portions of a leather mail bag, of the pattern in use half a century ago. In this bag, or so much of it as were left, were upwards of thirty letters, all bearing date early in 1827.

It was evident that the man had been a mail-carrier, as the letters were addressed to various persons, some of remote sections. Perfectly legible were the addresses, while the heavy paper, breaking like parchment, was neither worn out or torn. In one of the letters were found two bills of a State bank, which has long ago failed, each bill being of the denomination of $100. There is no reason given for the position of the skeleton in the wall.

The wife of the late General Ord telegraphed to have her husband's remains brought home. The request will not be granted, as the deceased died of yellow fever.

JOHN THOMAS, aged thirteen, of Savannah, Pa., was killed by the cars. His mother was so affected by the shock that a babe she was nursing died in her arms of convulsions.

THE recovered body of Captain Webb shows that he was killed by being dashed against rocks before he reached the whirlpool. There was a gash five inches long in his head.

Among those killed in the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg railroad accident was Thomas A. Hoyne, an ex-Mayor of Chicago. He was very wealthy and one of the oldest residents of Chicago.

CHARLES E. UPTON, President of the late City Bank, of Rochester, N. Y., was sentenced by Justice Ramsey to six months in the Monroe county penitentiary, on conviction of overdrawing his accounts with the bank.

In excavating for the water-main on Ninth street, in Lynchburg, Miss., between Main and Church, the stump of the Clay and Fredlinghausen pole of the memorable 1844 campaign was dug up in a well-preserved condition.

FOREPAUGH, the showman, was arrested in Savannah, N. Y., recently on complaint of the Humane Society, for having in his employ Eddie Selborn, aged twelve, a trapeze performer. Forepaugh claims the boy is sixteen years old.

RHODES and Bradley, two of the heaviest iron merchants of Chicago, have obtained a judgment for $82,422 in a suit growing out of a contract with the Cleveland Rolling Mill Company, in which the latter were defendants.

Mrs. NELLIE MIX, formerly of Cleveland, Ohio, was found dead in her bed at her boarding house in New York. She was addicted to the excessive use of chloral and liquors. Her brother, Frank Belding, killed himself in the Prospect House, in Cleveland, in 1872.

THIRTY-six Italian bootblacks were arrested at Atlantic City, N. J., and ordered to change their vocation. They were arrested under a special law of the Legislature enacting that no child under the age of eighteen shall be allowed to black boots, solicit aid or play musical instruments.

THE payments made on account of pensions since the first of the month have been very heavy, and on the 12th had reduced the Treasury reserve by nearly six million dollars below the sum set apart for the redemption of the legal tenders.
